Dear Proud Elizabeth Public School Teacher,

Elizabeth Public Schools is always working towards its goals of college preparedness, career readiness, and “on-time” graduation for every child. As educators, we meet those goals through successfully nurturing our students during their transformation from today’s students to tomorrow’s leaders.

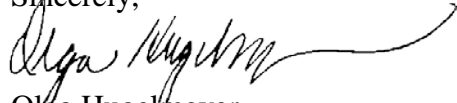

Teacher Appreciation Week exists to recognize and celebrate educators for their tremendous commitment in teaching, developing, and preparing our nation’s children to become the future leaders of our community.

Countless numbers of our students have left our schools to attend college, enter trade schools, or make the leap right into the work force. Many entered career fields such as engineering, technology, energy, hospitality and retail services, public safety, health sciences, military leadership, entertainment, visual and performing arts, and education. Before any of them started their careers or achieved any level of success, they received the gift of a high quality education from Elizabeth Public Schools teachers.

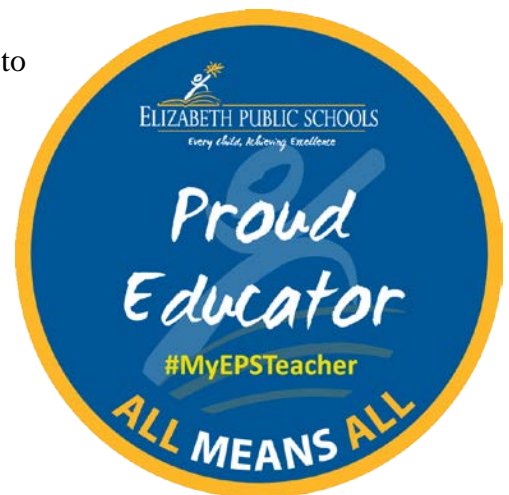

We are inviting everyone in the school community to please visit www.epsnj.org/TeacherAppreciation to recognize the excellent work of our teachers. This link gives everyone the opportunity to download the “Proud Educator” and “I Love My Teacher” images to share stories and pride of Elizabeth Public Schools educators.

Best wishes for a rewarding week that celebrates your contributions to Elizabeth Public Schools.

Sincerely,

Olga Hugelmeyer
