Celebrating Excellence in Elizabeth Public Schools

Elizabeth Public Schools, Elizabeth, NJ

January 20, 2011

“All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them.” – Walt Disney

Principal Thelma C. Hurd Retires After 51 Years of Service

After 51 years of service, Dr. Thelma C. Hurd officially retired as principal of John Marshall School No. 20 effective January 1, 2011. During her time at Elizabeth Public Schools, Hurd's philosophy on education and strict adherence to the rules established her as one of the most celebrated educators in the district.

"She is the soul of not only this school, but the city of Elizabeth," said Fred Flowers, a fifth-grade teacher who has worked at John Marshall School No. 20 for ten years and was raised just a few blocks away.

Hurd earned a doctorate in Educational Administration, is a successful real estate investor and owns homes in Martha's Vineyard and the Poconos. However, her greatest achievement has been her tremendous impact on the lives of Elizabeth Public Schools' students and team members at School No. 20. Hurd commented, "When I started at John Marshall School No. 20, the school needed a lot of work. I immediately ordered the janitorial staff to work long days until the building was clean and told teachers that anyone who didn't help students succeed would be fired."

Hurd's strict educational philosophy resulted in her students testing at or above state averages in most categories on state assessments and exceptional student attendance rates. Hurd stated, "Environment is not an excuse for children not learning. If you spend your waking hours in this building, you will be educated."

Superintendent of Schools Pablo Munoz stated, "I heard her say when she became principal, she wanted to create a prep-school caliber environment for her students. The record shows that she has. Dr. Thelma C. Hurd has exhibited dedication and commitment to the students of Elizabeth and worked tirelessly to ensure that they received excellent educational experiences and services. She will be greatly missed by all."

On her last day of work, Hurd smiled across her desk and shared her secret for success in education, "I believe all children can learn because they are bright." She affectionately commented, "I know what's between their ears – a healthy brain."

More Excellent Choices in 2011

Elizabeth Public Schools, in a concerted effort to continually provide its students with excellent educational experiences and services, is proud to announce a new National Academy Foundation (NAF) program at John E. Dwyer Technology Academy called the NAF Academy of Engineering.

NAF was founded in 1982 by Sanford I. Weill, Chairman Emeritus of Citigroup Inc., as a partnership between business leaders and educators. The mission of NAF is to design comprehensive educational programs for high school students in the field of business. Over the years, NAF has collaborated with many civic and corporate partners creating high school business programs including Academies of Hospitality & Tourism, Academies of Information Technology, and Academies of Engineering.

Through this partnership, Elizabeth Public Schools and NAF have introduced an Academy of Information Technology at John E. Dwyer Technology Academy; an Academy of Hospitality and Tourism at Thomas Edison Career and Technical Academy; and an Academy of Finance at Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr. Leadership Academy. The NAF programs operate as small learning communities within the larger high school setting. Each program has its own curriculum which includes paid internships, project based-learning, and an integration of literacy instruction through an extended inquiry process that simulates professional knowledge and workplace behavior.

The NAF Academy of Information Technology at John E. Dwyer Technology Academy prepares students for a post-secondary education and career opportunities in the expanding digital age. The program offers coursework in Programming; Database Administration; Web Design and Administration; and Digital Networks.

The NAF Academy of Hospitality and Tourism at Thomas A. Edison Career and Technical Academy provides students with a strong academic foundation in social studies, business and language arts which prepares students for post-secondary studies in hospitality and tourism. Students gain insight and experience in a variety of hospitality and tourism fields including Hotel Management; Sports, Entertainment and Event Management; and Tourism.

In the NAF Academy of Finance at Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr. Leadership Academy students take academically challenging courses in business, social studies, math and language arts. They gain experience in a wide variety of financial careers including Banking and Credit, Financial Planning, International Finance, Securities, Insurance, Accounting and Economics.

The new NAF Academy of Engineering at John E. Dwyer Technology Academy will educate students in the principles of engineering, and provide content in the fields of Electronics, Biotechnology, Aerospace, Civil Engineering, and Architecture.

Superintendent of Schools Pablo Muñoz believes this partnership serves the district well as the Elizabeth Public Schools continues to pursue its goal of becoming one of the best school systems in the State of New Jersey.

“The collaboration between Elizabeth Public Schools and NAF ensures successful outcomes for all Elizabeth Public School students and prepares them for post-secondary education and the international marketplace,” said Pablo Muñoz, Superintendent of Schools.

Carlos Trujillo, Elizabeth Board of Education President added, “This partnership exemplifies our commitment to our high school transformation plan where students have diverse educational experiences, academic choices and challenging course work.”

The NAF Academy of Engineering will begin in September 2011. Students interested in applying for any of the NAF programs should contact their guidance counselors. Additional information on NAF can be found at <http://naf.org/>

Patriotic Songfest

The learning community at Donald Stewart School No. 51 held a Patriotic songfest. In preparation for the event, students learned about the United States of America and the many states that make up the country. They learned patriotic songs including America the Beautiful, This Land is Your Land, God Bless America and My Country 'Tis of Thee. Choreography was added to enhance the interpretation of the songs. The ROTC from Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr. Leadership Academy also contributed to the songfest by presenting the colors during the Pledge of Allegiance and the United States of America's National Anthem. The event was a lot of fun and reminded the learning community at School No. 51 about the importance of patriotism and showing pride in our country.

Congratulations!

Elizabeth Board of Education Opens Mabel G. Holmes School No. 5 Annex

*New Jersey Schools Development Authority CEO
Attends Ribbon Cutting Ceremony for New School*

New Jersey Schools Development Authority (SDA) CEO Marc D. Larkins, Esq. and his Chief of Staff Jason Ballard attended the ribbon cutting ceremony at Elizabeth Public Schools Mabel G. Holmes School No. 5 to celebrate the opening of their Annex for Early Childhood Education.

Larkins was appointed in February of 2010 by Governor Chris Christie to serve as the Chief Executive Officer of the Schools Development Authority. He is responsible for the management and implementation of the state's school construction program throughout New Jersey.

Mabel G. Holmes, School No. 5 Annex is located in the former St. Hedwig's Grammar School building. An agreement made between Elizabeth Public Schools and the Catholic Archdiocese of Newark in May of last year made possible the leasing of three elementary schools formerly operated by the archdiocese to be used to educate pre-school children in Elizabeth. St. Adalbert's School located in Elizabethport and Blessed Sacrament School located in North Elizabeth were opened earlier in the school year.

Board of Education President Carlos Trujillo stated, "This school and the other two that we have entered into contract with the Archdiocese of Newark will allow us to offer early childhood education to about five hundred children who have been on a waiting list. It is my understanding now that the waiting list has been depleted."

Carlos Trujillo thanked the authority's representatives for their continued support of the Elizabeth Public Schools. The Board of Education recognized the State of New Jersey for the work they are doing in Elizabeth to expand early childhood and furthering educational opportunities for all children. "Schools like this are possible because of the partnership and the interest the State of New Jersey and the SDA has taken in the education of the students in the City of Elizabeth," said Trujillo.

Larkins expressed equal praise of the management of the Elizabeth Board of Education. "I want to take the opportunity to congratulate the Elizabeth Board of Education on behalf of the State and the Christie administration and the Schools Development Authority. It's certainly exciting to be here and to have the opportunity to partner with districts that show leadership, innovation, and a bit of ingenuity in terms of how they address the problems regarding early childhood classroom space. The district is making fantastic use of those facilities and I think the kids are benefitting from it."

Prior to the ribbon cutting ceremony, Larkins and Ballard visited Dr. Albert Einstein Academy School No. 29 and Ronald Reagan Academy School No. 30, which were both completed in 2006, as well as the Academic High School and Victor Mravlag School No. 21 construction site on Shelley Avenue. They were accompanied by Board President Carlos Trujillo; Board members Francisco González, Paul Perreira, and Fernando Nazco; former Board member Rafael Fajardo; and Superintendent of Schools Pablo Muñoz.

New Jersey Schools Development Authority Moves Forward With Funding for New School No. 21

On Wednesday January 5, 2011, the New Jersey Schools Development Authority (SDA) proceeded with its recommendation to fund and complete the construction of Victor Mravlag School No. 21 in Elizabeth, New Jersey. The new school, located at 132 Shelley Avenue, will help provide more instructional excellence for Elizabeth Public Schools' students from that community.

The New Jersey Development Authority is a public agency that is responsible for financing, renovating and constructing educational infrastructure in special-needs districts. The Elizabeth Board of Education has been working closely with the SDA to renovate its aging educational facilities. The Elizabeth Board of Education recognizes that the support of Governor Chris Christie is crucial to the completion of this project.

School No. 21, located in the Elmora Hills section of Elizabeth, has been a focal point of neighborhood life for decades. Built in 1930, the school served first as a neighborhood elementary facility through the 1970s and then became the headquarters for the school system's full day gifted and talented program for elementary students. The exterior and interior of the building were meticulously maintained throughout the years; however the demands of 21st Century educational programs, technology and the neighborhood's growing population were all key factors in the Elizabeth Public Schools' decision to modernize the existing facility.

The original facility housed a total of 231 students in pre-kindergarten through the third grade and was about 40,000 square feet. When it opens in September 2012, School No. 21 will be home to 500 pre-kindergarten through grade eighth students and will have almost doubled in size. The new building will be a neighborhood school and offer state-of-the art classrooms, a large gymnasium, a cafetorium with a stage and backstage workshops, instrumental and choral music rooms, a piano lab, a science classroom with an adjacent demonstration lab, a functional and technologically advanced media center, a technology lab, and a fully-equipped art studio.

The Board of Education is working closely with the New Jersey Schools Development Authority to proceed with construction of a new neighborhood school in Elmora Hills-School No. 21 as well as the construction of a new Gifted and Talented-Academic High School. Elizabeth Board of Education Member Fernando Nazco stated "The completion of these two new schools for the residents of Elizabeth is a definitive priority for this administration. We will work arduously to ensure that this comes to fruition." The State of New Jersey is fully funding the construction of School No.21 and a new Academic High School.

The CEO of the New Jersey Schools Development Authority Marc D. Larkins, Esq. visited the construction site of School No. 21 on Monday January 3rd, 2012. He was accompanied by Elizabeth Board President Carlos Trujillo; Board members Francisco González, Paul Perreira, and Fernando Nazco; former Board member Rafael Fajardo; and Superintendent of Schools Pablo Muñoz.

Superintendent of Schools Pablo Muñoz commented, “Victor Mravlag School No. 21 was designed with the unique needs of the neighborhood in mind. It will help Elizabeth Public Schools provide the challenging coursework and the rigor of instruction that we must offer if our students are to be prepared for a post-secondary education and the international marketplace. Moving ahead with this construction will benefit the community as a whole. We are very happy that we are moving forward with this state of the art facility.”

“Schools like this are possible because of the partnership and the interest the State of New Jersey and the SDA has taken in the education of the students in the City of Elizabeth,” said Carlos Trujillo, Elizabeth Board of Education President.

EPS Hopes New Law Will Force City To Acknowledge Gang Problems

Elizabeth Public Schools heralded the signing of new legislation which requires municipalities to provide gang related activity to the proper authorities. The new law will improve the way the district fights gang activity and will help “improve safety for our children,” stated Francisco González, Elizabeth Board of Education Member. The legislation was sponsored by Assemblyman Gordon Johnson and Senator Ron Rice to improve data collection techniques and was signed into law by Governor Chris Christie.

Bill (A-3264/S-1537) requires that information contained in gang related incident offense reports be forwarded to the Superintendent of State Police and included in the Uniform Crime Report. “It requires that cities acknowledge that they have a gang problem, requiring them to report the data to the appropriate authorities at once,” stated Carlos Trujillo, Elizabeth Board of Education President. Trujillo added, “Our district has been in close contact with the Union County Prosecutor’s Office to discuss ways we can bring the City of Elizabeth to the table on this very issue. We support the Prosecutor’s efforts in requiring the Elizabeth Police to properly report this vital crime data to the public.”

Meetings between the Elizabeth Board of Education and the Union County Prosecutors Office have been held to find ways to improve security in the school district and city as a whole. Representatives of the PBA divulged a letter in the press in November, 2010 with regard to the safety of their members in Elizabeth’s Schools. The PBA did not show up at the meeting that was scheduled in the Prosecutor’s Office, nor did anyone from the police department attend.

Even though local police departments are already required to submit quarterly reports to the Attorney General, it is important that the public be aware of all crimes being committed in their municipalities. “This isn’t just a school problem; this is a community problem. We need to work together as a community to fight gang activity as it is impacting our children and the very city they live in,” stated Board of Education member Francisco González. “Addressing the problem with hard facts and accurate data is the first place to start.”

Astronomy Night at School No. 29

On a clear autumn night, approximately 250 students and parents from Dr. Albert Einstein Academy School No. 29 participated in Astronomy Night. Participants circulated among four astronomy activity stations which included telescope viewings of the Moon, Jupiter and its moons; a virtual night sky tour in the planetarium; and two learning activity tables.

On the school playground, one of the school's two telescopes was positioned to view the moon in its waxing gibbous phase. Assisted by teachers, Mr. Carmizino, Mrs. Alvarado and Mr. Roble, participants were able to see crater formations and the dark grey area called a maria. The second telescope was positioned to view Jupiter and four of its major moons, Europa, Ganymede, Io and Callisto. The telescope was powerful enough for the participants to see the bands of color on our solar system's largest planet.

In the planetarium, Ms. Tracy Espiritu guided visitors in a virtual tour of the night sky. She shared with them how to spot certain celestial objects such as planets and constellations, visible in the night and early morning.

At the activity tables managed by Mrs. Maria Guaracci, Mrs. Salemme and student volunteers, students and parents compared the planets by their size and learned about certain constellations through hands-on activities.

The night was a great success combining family fun with science!

Superintendent of Schools Visits School No. 51

On Tuesday, December 7, 2010, Superintendent of Schools Pablo Muñoz visited Donald Stewart School No. 51. During the visit he read "The Beastly Feast" to Mrs. Smith's classroom. The children were excited about the visit and actively participated in answering the questions posed by Mr. Muñoz. Students identified rhyming words and characters in the story. At the end, Mr. Muñoz thanked the students and shook their hands.

Educator for a Day

On Thursday, November 18, 2010, Ronald Reagan Academy School No. 30 participated in the National Education Association's Educator for a Day program. The school invited community leaders into classrooms to serve as educators for a day so that they could experience firsthand the needs of today's students and the challenges of working in a school environment.

Guest educators included Elizabeth Board of Education Member Francisco González, Assistant Director for Elementary and Secondary Education Lisette Calvo, Freeholder Angel Estrada, Retired College Counselor Sara Torres, Mortgage Broker Karoline Puma, and Personal Banker Shirley Guzman.

The Educator for a Day program reinforces American Education Week's theme, "Great Public Schools: A Basic Right and Our Responsibility". The theme represents National Education Association's vision of calling upon all Americans to do their part in making public schools great for all children so they can grow and achieve in the 21st century.

Union County Gifted & Talented Association Convocations

On December 8, twenty third grade students from William F. Halloran School No. 22 represented Elizabeth at the "Third Grade, Edith Mayner Brain Bowl Day of Problem Solving". The event was sponsored by the Union County Gifted and Talented Association. The day celebrated students working together with fellow Gifted and Talented students from across Union County to demonstrate their problem solving skills. The students participated in challenges that included building structures, brain quests, estimating and brainstorming. The event enabled the students at School No. 22 to make new friends and learn from each other as they participated in educational challenges. The students did an outstanding job at the event scoring on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place teams. One of the students commented, "We learned so much and had so much fun solving the problems."

Kindergarten students at Benjamin Franklin School No. 13 celebrated the accomplishments of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. They discussed their feelings about Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and engaged in activities which taught them about his life. The activities included reading a poem, watching a video, singing songs and reading a book. The students concluded that Dr. King was a leader, who believed that everyone should be treated equal. The students shared their thoughts about Dr. King on a bulletin board display which included a shared writing activity with a colorful display of the students' silhouettes.

La Befana

In celebration of "La Befana" (Three Kings Day), the Italian III students in Mr. Morsella's classes, at Elizabeth High School, visited the French 1 students to share with them the story of "La Befana". As the story has been told, the Three Wise Men were on their way to visit baby Jesus when they met "La Befana". They asked her to join them; however, she told them that she had too many chores to do that day. After her work, she decided to go see the baby Jesus, but never found him. On her way, she gave out treats and gifts intended for the baby Jesus to the children. Therefore in celebration of this event, children in Italy anxiously await her arrival every year on January 6th. The French students were thrilled to learn about Italian culture and enjoyed the visit of "La Befana".

American Education Week

Benjamin Franklin School No. 13 hosted American Education Week with an array of activities for the students. The week began with a visit from Board President Carlos Trujillo, who read to Ms. Buchta's first grade class. In addition, Board Member Francisco González, Assistant Superintendent Jennifer Barrett, Supervisor of Science Dr. Michael Wansaw, and Supervisor of Visual and Performing Arts Tracy Monteiro, joined the Board President reading their favorite books to students. Parents also attended the event, sharing the educational experience with their children.

Food Drive at School No. 51

In the month of November, Donald Stewart School No. 51 held a Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) sponsored Food Drive. The drive was an incredible success as the School No. 51 learning community exceeded its goal. The school's original goal was to acquire 500 food items but with the help of parents and team members, the school acquired over 800 food items. The food was donated to the Elizabeth Coalition to House the Homeless on Division Street in Elizabeth.

“Talking Books”

During National Education Week, at Nicholas S. La Corte-Peterstown School No. 3, a group of eighth grade students visited kindergarten classrooms, asking the children to vote for their favorite story books. Eighth graders then turned the favorite selections into “talking books” using a Power Point presentation. The new “talking books” were presented to the kindergarten students and downloaded onto their classroom computers. The kindergarten students utilized these “talking books” to facilitate a more independent form of reading practice. A subsequent writing assignment was also developed for them and the results were displayed on the “Gingerbread Man” bulletin board outside their classroom. The collaborative effort was a great success!

Winter Holiday Concert

Approximately 400 parents, family and friends attended the Winter Holiday Concert on Wednesday, December 15 at Dr. Antonia Pantoja School No. 27. The music department, under the direction of Annice Benamy, James Crowley, and Tina Padas-Mavroudis, entertained the audience with choral numbers and instrumental pieces of holiday music. A second performance was given for the entire School No. 27 learning community the next day so all the students could enjoy the experience.

Community Service at School No. 16

The learning community at Madison-Monroe School No. 16 took part in some amazing community service projects. During the past couple of months, team members and students held a Math-A-Thon for St. Jude Children's Hospital; collected teddy bears for the "Bear Hugs for the Holidays" event for children at Morristown Children's Hospital; and wrote Santa Letters to support the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

In the end, the School No. 16 learning community raised $240.00 in the Math-A-Thon; brought smiles and cheer to hospitalized children during the holidays; and helped to make children's dreams come true!

Parent Night

On December 9, Nicholas S. La Corte-Peterstown School No. 3 held a parent night for all 8th grade parents. Guidance Counselor Felice Adamcik hosted the event, giving a presentation on "How to Access PowerSchool at Home". In addition, 8th grade students presented their own slide shows, detailing everything they learned on their college field trips. Students proudly displayed slides of Princeton University, Richard Stockton College, Monmouth University, Ramapo College and Seton Hall University. Thanks to the Parent-Teacher Organization, every parent was given a CD containing their child's power point presentation and a customized candy bar that each child designed.

A Prehistoric Project Comes to Life

This past fall, eighth grade students from Victor Mravlag School No. 21 and William F. Halloran School No. 22 in their World History I class channeled their inner National Geographic producers and completed a group project on prehistoric humans. The project had the students create a short movie showing a single day in the life of “Gunga,” a Cro-Magnon man.

The first step was research and many students found themselves at Elizabeth Public Library. Focusing on food, clothing, shelter, art, religion, and the technology of these early humans, the students completed the detailed research that would allow them to create a movie.

Next, they wrote a script and found time after school and on weekends to venture into Elizabeth’s parks to film their project. Final projects included touching family stories, dramatic hunting scenes, and all the pathos of early human life.

Teacher Luis Sobo who assigned the popular project said, “It was very important for students to be able to do real research. Students had to internalize the information and then present it in script and stage form. The final product involved technology skills, software skills, and the ability to present information in an informative and engaging format.”

All about Reading

Students from Winfield Scott School No. 2 and their parents attended the school’s annual “Bedtime with Books” on Wednesday, December 8. This year, the book read was The Mitten Tree by Candace Christiansen. Teacher Barry Gastelu volunteered to read the story about a woman who finds purpose and joy in giving a very special gift. The story was brought to life by team members who donated gloves and mittens to be raffled off at the event. After the reading, team members read other books to small groups of students and their parents.

To encourage more interest in reading, School No. 2 also participated in a Perkins Restaurant promotion entitled “Reading Opens a Door”. If students read ten books, they received a coupon for one free adult entree with the purchase of a kid’s meal. The program first began in October with the second graders and now includes grades 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Recreating the First Thanksgiving

Mrs. Jaffe's bilingual kindergarten class, at Ronald Reagan Academy School No. 30, recreated the first Thanksgiving feast. Students learned the names of the Mayflower Pilgrims and the Wampanoag Native Americans who attended. They acted out their roles and became familiar with traditional foods and activities that are customary during Thanksgiving.

With the help of a generous donation by Whole Foods Market, the students and teachers were able to prepare a completely organic Thanksgiving meal complete with cornbread, baked sweet potatoes, fresh green beans, cranberry sauce, stuffing, turkey, gravy and apple pie. Team members Consuelo Salazar and Milena Maya also played an instrumental role in making the Thanksgiving Feast a success. Mrs. Jaffe commented, "Our students really gained an understanding for what Thanksgiving Dinner is like. Many of our students are new to this country so this was a real eye-opener for them and a great learning experience!"

Students of the Month at School No. 3

As the calendar year of 2010 came to a close, the learning community at Nicholas S. La Corte-Peterstown School No. 3 wanted to recognize the "Students of the Month" for November 2010. When a student is chosen for "Student of the Month" at School No. 3 they must embody special qualities in order to be designated with such an honor. The students must have good attendance, citizenship, and class participation; always try their best; and positively demonstrate these traits on a daily basis. The recipients for the month of November were recognized on December 2, 2010 by Interim Principal Jennifer Campel and given a delicious breakfast. Parents were invited to attend and share this honor with their children.

Squash Competition Proves Its Weight

The annual estimation contest was in full effect again this year at Victor Mravlag School No. 21 and William F. Halloran School No. 22. Students compared five and one pound weights in order to guess the weight of a North American squash. Camila Dutra won for the sixth through eighth grade category with a nineteen and sixty-five hundredths pound guess. Nabi Wahedun won for the third through fifth grade category with a fourteen and six hundredths pound guess. Sherlyn Diaz won in the pre-kindergarten through second grade category with a six and a half pound guess. Congratulations to all the winners!

Let it Snow

We are all far too familiar with snow, but what if you lived somewhere tropical? Snow would be hard to find, but not impossible. That is because, as Mrs. Phyllis Taub's fifth graders from Madison-Monroe School No. 16 learned, snow can be manufactured.

Students created artificial snow using a special white polymer. When mixed with water, the polymer can absorb enough water to expand to 40 times its size. The manufactured snow was terrific to touch, and students enjoyed comparing its feel to real snow. They were even able to bring home a bag of the powdery substance to their families. This activity led students to further scientific investigations, discussing the differences between mixtures and solutions.

Santa's Reading Night

On December 8, Dr. Orlando Edreira School No. 26, in collaboration with the school PTA, hosted a "Santa's Reading Night". Students and parents packed the library for the evening to hear Santa read books and explain the importance of reading in the educational life of a child.

Spreading the Word for Success

At Alexander Hamilton Preparatory Academy, team member Stacy Augustine has been dedicating her time and efforts to ensuring that her students master mathematics. She has successfully instructed her students in geometry, algebra I and II, and trigonometry. Recently, she was asked to join New Jersey University's New Teacher Panel for Graduates to share her experience with future teachers. Through this forum, she has been able to help college students better understand teaching, the learning process, and effective classroom management skills.

The college students asked questions ranging from the hiring interview process to the challenges and rewards of being a new teacher. Ms. Augustine said “I told them that no matter what the challenges, the job of teaching is satisfying and rewarding – so don’t give up.”

She emphasized the rewards of teaching in saying, “I originally was an accountant. But it’s hard to love numbers the way you will love your students. I still get e-mails from graduates thanking me for the effort I made in helping them to succeed. Teaching gives you the opportunity to change someone’s life significantly for the better.”

Ms. Augustine also spoke about Elizabeth Public Schools’ educational policies. “I told them that under the leadership of Superintendent Pablo Muñoz, the Elizabeth school district strives for excellence in all of its endeavors. I encouraged them to apply in Elizabeth because teachers with dual degrees can help us meet the educational needs of our students.”

Principal George E. Mikros commented, “By serving on New Jersey University’s New Teacher Panel, Ms. Augustine is spreading the word about the benefits of being a team member in Elizabeth Public Schools. Also, her contact with college students will give her insight into how to better prepare our students for the rigors of college.”

Honoring Achievement

In order to inspire students to do their best, Dr. Orlando Edreira Academy School No. 26 held its monthly “Student of the Month” program. The program, run by the school guidance counselor, celebrates students who have demonstrated academic and behavioral improvement over the course of the month. Selected students are honored in the main lobby and treated to a small breakfast in recognition of their improvement.

Students at Terence C. Reilly School No. 7 Create and Read Stories Based on the Pledge of Ethics

Terence C. Reilly School No. 7 students, in the “Heroes and Heroines: Writing Through Literature” class, focused on the use of writings throughout all genres to help expand the definition of what it means to be heroic while experiencing new opportunities to craft their literary talents. Members of the class were challenged to create stories about a hero or heroine, integrating one point of the district’s Pledge of Ethics. The students then read their stories to the second grade.

when I asked questions the kids responded brilliantly. The students are good listeners and I was glad to read to them.”

Jeslie Ortiz, a sixth grade student, explained, “The experience I had reading to the second grade students was fantastic. At the end of the story, everyone clapped which made me so glad to know that they learned something from me. It was almost like I was a teacher.”

Focusing on the themes of the class, seventh grade student Dahiana Aquino thought about heroism, “Is anyone who is truly brave not nervous and afraid? I was very nervous and afraid, at first. It was fun hearing what the children thought about the different stories. The children of this school are amazing and I would love another chance to read to them, soon.”

13th Annual Winter Concert

Dr. Orlando Edreira Academy School No. 26 held its 13th annual Winter Concert on December 15. All eight ensembles performed to a packed gymnasium of family, school and community members.

The Fourth Grade Chorus directed by Miss Christine Cho and Mr. McLean started the concert. The ensemble was followed by the 38 voice Concert Chorus; Beginning Strings; along with the Orchestra and Voices of Harmony, all directed by Miss Christine Cho. The program also featured the 60 piece Beginning and Developmental Bands; Jazz Ensemble; and the 67 member Advanced Band, directed by Dr. Thomas Siebenhuhner.

Many students performed and some even appeared in two and three separate ensembles. The performers delighted their audience with a mix of familiar songs associated with the December holidays, and with standard concert repertoire.

The Mabel G. Holmes' Community Garden

Students and team members from Mabel G. Holmes School No. 5 created and dedicated a community vegetable and flower garden to honor the parents/guardians, grandparents, and community members who have been instrumental in supporting the School No. 5 learning community.

The students and team members planted various bulbs such as Hyacinths, Tulips, and Lilies. During the process, students learned horticulture and life skills. Students are eager for an early spring so they can see their hard work blossom.

Sending Letters to American Heroes

Students at Dr. Antonia Pantoja School No. 27 took part in a project to send holiday cards and letters to injured service men and women who are recovering at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Under the direction of Math Coach Mrs. McCarthy and Social Studies Teacher Mr. O'Donnell, students from kindergarten to eighth grade sent heartfelt wishes to soldiers for a happy holiday season. The students expressed their appreciation to the war veterans for their service to our country and expressed gratitude for protecting our freedom. They wished all a speedy recovery and hoped everyone would soon be well enough to spend time with their families.

Student Council Hosts Welcome Breakfast for New Students

The Victor Mravlag School No. 21 and William F. Halloran School No. 22 Student Council welcomed twenty-nine newly enrolled students and their parents with a Welcome Breakfast, in December. Bagels, donuts, coffee, and juice were served, comforting anxious students and parents. Each family received personalized information folders that contained essential information about school policies, expectations, and procedures.

Student Council Presidents, Ray Bally and Adrian Cortizo, entertained and warmed the hearts of the group with inspiring words during the breakfast. Seventh and eighth grade ambassadors also assisted, giving parents and children guided tours throughout the building. By the end of the breakfast, the new families felt welcomed and were relieved of apprehension.

AP Biology Students Get an Overview of Cancer and Its Treatments

Article Submitted by The Journalism Class at Elizabeth High School

Mrs. Abdel Hadi's AP Biology classes, from Elizabeth High School, were privileged to have Lee Greenberger, PhD as a guest lecturer to provide them with an overview of cancer and the current treatments for the disease.

Dr. Greenberger, Vice President of Research at Enzon Pharmaceuticals, presented 90 minutes of information which described the molecular basis of cancer including an understanding of mutations and altered signal transduction pathways that lead to uncontrolled cell growth. The lecture built from general concepts of cell structure and function (i.e. plasma membrane, DNA, phosphorylation) which are all part of the coursework in Ms. Abdel Hadi's AP Biology class.

The lecture covered methods for the detection of cancer followed by a short discussion on the molecular basis of treatments of cancer, many of which inhibit key targets that control cell growth. The final ten minutes of the lecture covered opportunities and career paths in cancer research.

Dr. Greenberger said, "Research and development in cancer is a very slow and painstaking process that can take decades for today's laboratory breakthroughs to benefit patients." That is why, according to Dr. Greenberger, "it is essential that we attract the brightest and most capable undergraduate, high school, and even middle school students to careers in cancer research."

The students were very engaged during the lecture and many expressed their excitement about the subject matter. Many students also expressed their interest in pursuing a career in cancer research.

Holiday Concert at Mabel G. Holmes School No. 5

The students at Mabel G. Holmes School No. 5 worked rigorously to prepare for a holiday performance that was second to none. Under the direction of team member Mr. Scott, students performed a wonderful program of selections which captured the holiday spirit. The performances included full band arrangements, woodwind ensemble selections, string ensemble pieces, and solo selections. The event was a perfect addition to the School No. 5 learning community's holiday celebrations.

Toy Drive

On December 22, thirty-eight children were the lucky recipients of a toy raffle at Dr. Antonia Pantoja School No. 27. Parent Liaison Lydia Rodriguez was in charge of collecting and distributing donations from the team members at School No. 27. The event was a great success reminding the learning community at School No. 27 about the importance of giving back to others.

“Mix It Up Day”

“Mix It Up Day” is a national campaign to improve intergroup relations, reduce prejudices, and build inclusive learning communities. The day encourages students to identify, question, and cross social boundaries that separate them from other students.

This year, students identified the cafeteria as the place where social divisions are most commonly drawn. The school organizers of “Mix It Up Day” used this location as an opportunity to move students out of their comfort zones to connect with someone new over lunch. The activity, facilitated by Social Worker Steven Zografos and Parent Liaison Antoinette Omizebga, was a huge success resulting in students meeting new friends and learning about cultures that are different from their own.

The Polar Express

All Aboard! The Polar Express Train departed from Benjamin Franklin School No. 13 to the North Pole on December 23. During the week, the students completed many projects based on the Polar Express across the curriculum. Some of the projects included graphing, geography, artistic representations of the Polar Express and persuasive letters based on the theme “Do you have to see something to believe in it?” The culminating activity for the week brought the entire School No. 13 learning community together to watch the Polar Express movie. During the show, students and team members wore cozy pajamas and enjoyed hot chocolate and holiday cookies. The week long activities were a great experience and learning journey for the students at School No. 13.

Battin’s Holiday Festival

The Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) from Joseph Battin School No. 4 held their first annual Holiday Festival on December 16, 2010. In preparation for the event, the PTO decorated the gym and cafeteria with trees, snowflakes and lights to capture the holiday spirit. Parents and students enjoyed an evening of fun and festivities; dining on a holiday feast; playing games in the gym; and participating in various raffles to win great prizes. Everyone had a wonderful time and is looking forward to the next festival at Joseph Battin School No. 4!

Robert Morris All Stars

The fifth grade students at Robert Morris School No. 18 began their ten week “All Star” program presented by Prevention Links. Under the supervision of School Counselor Nancy Monaco, the students attend the program once a week with a curriculum targeted to increase positive social skills and belief systems. This science-based curriculum was developed and maintained by Tanglewood Research. Topics include building strong personal commitments; increasing positive parental attentiveness; developing positive ideals; creating a belief in conventional norms; and bonding with school, family and pro-social institutions. The students thoroughly enjoy the topics and look forward to the lesson and discussion every week. Through this program students are provided with many of the tools they need to be successful both personally and academically.

A World of Volleyball at School No. 6

This month in Physical Education, the middle school students of Toussaint L'Ouverture Marquis de Lafayette School No. 6 jumped into the world of volleyball. The students learned about the history of volleyball and were amazed how its creator Physical Education Director of a YMCA William G. Morgan created the sport because YMCA members wanted an indoor game that wasn't as physical as basketball. Students were introduced to the skills and terms that correlated to the game. They were asked to explain a quote by Vince Lombardi, "Individual commitment to a group effort -- that is what makes a team work, a company work, a society work, a civilization work." The activities and discussions led students to understand that in volleyball everyone must do their job for the good of the team. In addition, students utilized their math skills when shown a diagram of a volleyball court which displayed a 9 meter by 18 meter rectangle. As a team, students converted meters to feet and measured out the correct distance for game play. Once the students were ready, they participated in a Holiday Volleyball Tournament on December 23 to display their skills and knowledge of volleyball.

A "Winter 'Green' Fiesta" is Celebrated at School No. 13

On December 22, Benjamin Franklin School No. 13 presented their 1st annual "Winter 'Green' Fiesta". The performance was a showcase of the Afterschool Performing Arts groups which included the School Band and Chorus. The school band, led by team member George Paulick, started the fantastic show followed by performances from grades K-3 and the dance team which performed as "Sugarplums". The highlight of the concert was "Santa's Song", written by Language Arts teacher Eugene Anagnos, which was proudly performed by the school chorus under the direction of team member Nicole Pepe.

The fiesta also included a showcase of artwork created by the Afterschool Visual Arts program. The artwork, displayed in the hall, was made out of recycled material from Ms. Christina Rios' Art Club. It incorporated a life size "Green" Gingerbread House constructed by team member Lara Filippello and her eighth grade students using only recycled material.

Homework Help Workshop

The Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) at Joseph Battin School No. 4 sponsored a “Homework Help” workshop on December 7. The workshop invited students and parents to learn about homework and class work strategies. Teachers from each grade level assisted in the workshop, teaching parents techniques for helping their children with their schoolwork. After the workshop, the PTO held their monthly meeting and thanked all the parents and teachers who participated in the workshop. PTO President Pia Carbajal stated, “The night was a big success and we plan to have similar workshops for parents throughout the year.”

College Bound

In honor of American Education Week, the students and team members of Benjamin Franklin School No. 13 wore their favorite college t-shirts. Throughout the day, students saw various colleges represented including Rutgers University, Kean University and William Paterson University. The shirts inspired discussions among the students about their goals for the future and plans for achieving those goals.

Students of the Month at School No. 13

During the month of November, Benjamin Franklin School No. 13 recognized students who demonstrated academic growth, achievement, and great character. The honorary winners received a certificate for their hard work and dedication.

Congratulations!

School No. 27 Celebrates American Education Week

The Dr. Antonia Pantoja School No. 27 learning community celebrated American Education week with numerous activities, each centered around a theme. The activities included reading educational quotes, decorating puzzle pieces to reflect students' personalities, Crazy Sock Day, a word sleuth contest, faculty breakfast and inviting parents to read to students.

In addition to the fun activities, special community leaders were invited to the school to speak to the students about education and community responsibilities. Mr. Carlo Cedeno, Elizabeth City Councilman came to speak to the Middle School about LEGOS-loving words and self esteem building along with STONES-losing the harsh words and negative words. The students were then asked to write an essay, "If I were Principal for a Day at Dr. Antonia Pantoja School", with a winner chosen from each grade level. Thursday was Community Leaders Day with special visits from Police Officer Tropiano and Fire Office Captain Young from station No. 7. The children enjoyed seeing a real fire truck along with police cars and a police motorcycle. Mr. Kevin Boyle, Vice President of Development and Alumni Affairs at Caldwell College, spoke with guest speaker Bishrut Thapa, International Student and President of Student Government, spoke to fourth and fifth grade students about the importance of furthering their education. Mrs. Helena Coutinho Goncalves spoke to the third grade about being a professional pharmacist and the importance of working hard in school. School Spirit Day culminated the week with teachers wearing their old College shirts or School No. 27 school colors. The middle school had a guessing contest trying to identify the teacher's school pictures. We would like to express our thanks to Jenny Reguinho and the America Education team for all their hard work, dedication, and inspirational activities.

Language and Culture Experience at Aroma Restaurant

Spanish I and II students from the Thomas Jefferson Arts Academy had a wonderful language and cultural experience at Aroma Restaurant in Elizabeth. During the field trip, students had the opportunity to order from the menu in Spanish; taste different Spanish recipes; converse with restaurant staff; and dance to Spanish music. The trip was a wonderful way for the students to practice their Spanish speaking skills and experience Spanish culture.

You are empowered to achieve excellence.
