Board President Stanley Neron asked Student Representative Mr. Christ Villard to present his report to the community.

Good evening, Board members, Superintendent Dr. Hugelmeyer, Assistant Superintendents, Principals, Vice Principals, Administrators, Teachers, Staff, Fellow Students, and families. My name is Christ Villard, and I am honored to serve as the student representative of Admiral William F. Halsey Health & Public Safety Academy. Tonight, I stand not just as one voice, but as a reflection of many of the vibrant, diverse, and dynamic student body that makes our school truly exceptional. At Halsey Academy, diversity isn't just a statistic-it's a lived experience. Every hallway, every classroom tells a different story. We come from diverse cultures, speak different languages, practice different traditions, and hold different perspectives. Yet it is in that difference that we find strength, creativity, and connection. It's that unique blend of backgrounds and experiences that will prepare us for a future in a global, interconnected world. Halsey provides the space for every student to explore their passions and reach their potential. And that is what I am excited to share more about with you tonight.

Throughout the school year each one of the school's representatives had to collaborate with administrators and teachers to improve our schools and make them a place where everyone feels comfortable and motivated to learn. We recognize that education is essential and that everyone learns differently, so we try to find creative ways to reach everyone in their educational experience. A perfect example of this at Halsey was our Interclass Sporting Event, at which I had the privilege of spearheading. It was more than just a competition-it was a celebration of school spirit and unity. With approximately 1,000 students in attendance, this event brought together students from grade nine through twelve and included staff from Halsey Main and Annex campuses. You got to see students who might not usually interact, all cheering each other on, playing side by side, and representing their class with pride. The positive feedback from students and staff after this event was overwhelming, and it demonstrated how impactful community-centered activities can be in fostering school spirit and unity.

This is just one example of the incredible work we've done together. Our commitment to our school community doesn't stop there. At Halsey we also care about the environment. You can see that in our student-led environmental clubs, recycling initiatives and working in our greenhouse and gardens. These efforts reflect how much students care about making a positive impact, and Halsey students are leading that charge with creativity and passion. We also grow beyond the classroom. In September, Fundraising events throughout the year do not just raise money-they build community. Whether it's for class trips, charity causes, or special school events, they bring students and teachers together for a common goal. Some highlights are:

The Ninth Grade ORT Farm Field Trip & Corn Maze which was an immense success where students learned about biodiversity, climate awareness and sustainability practices. In addition, Halsey hosted visits from universities like Kean University, William Paterson, NJIT, Montclair State, Rutgers (Newark), and Bloomfield College to help us plan our futures. Accordingly, the Ninth-Grade students hosted an HBCU College Fair, organized Thank You Grams for the staff and closed out the year with an impressive Holiday Dance Performance, all of which represent Halsey's commitment to student involvement.

To welcome 2025, we had a Resolution Wall, where students shared their goals for the new year. I am proud to be part of a school that values not just academic success, but personal growth as well. In February, our Volunteer Social Emotional (SEL) Group visited classrooms to help students feel more connected and included. This helped more students join clubs like the National Honor Society, Arts & Music Club, Math Club, and the YES Program. We also had a Hot Chocolate and Cookie Sale to raise money for the Senior Class. Groups like our Honor Societies and leadership clubs offer students a place to connect, belong and build their confidence. We celebrated Black History Month with fun events like a dance show at school, a door-decorating contest, and a dance performance at the Board of Education meeting. We even had Students vs. Students games, which were a big hit with all grades to promote that wonderful school spirit that Halsey has. At Halsey, no one must go through high school alone. One of our most powerful examples of our inclusive spirit is how we celebrate one another, especially during months like Women's History Month. At Halsey, it is not just a calendar event. We decorated classroom doors to honor important women and show how we value the challenging work they did to get where they are today. It's time when we lift the voices, stories, and accomplishments of women in history and our school community. A perfect example of this is celebrating our Girls ROTC Team who did great in the JROTC Fitness Competition, coming in fourth out of fourteen teams. At Halsey Academy, every achievement matters, every voice is valued, and every student has a place.

At Halsey we promote inclusivity, as seen in April where we celebrated Autism Awareness and through the Treat All Peeps with Kindness event, where we promoted kindness and school spirit. Halsey excels at this with our ongoing activities like the Give Someone a Reason to Smile Today Bulletin Board, Daily Shoutouts during Announcements, and weekly R.I.S.E. Shout Outs, which highlight the kindness and character of Halsey students.

In closing, I want to extend my deepest gratitude to the Board of Education and our dedicated school leaders for giving me the incredible opportunity to serve as a student representative. It has been an honor to represent the voices of my peers and to advocate on behalf of Halsey Academy. This year, we have celebrated academic achievements, artistic talents, athletic victories and countless moments of leadership and growth among our peers. Thank you for trusting me with this responsibility and your continued commitment to all Elizabeth students. None of this could have been possible without the support of our amazing staff members and thank you for allowing me to represent a school of which I am so proud. It has been a privilege to serve, and I am excited for the bright future ahead for Halsey Academy and all its students.

Mr. Neron thanked Mr. Villard for his report and applauded all his accomplishments and wished him the very best in the future.

Mr. Neron then read the following statement:
Citizens may address the Board.

“At this time, the microphones are open for public comment to those who have signed in prior to this session. I shall call individuals to the microphone based on the order of the sign-in. Mr. Neron called upon the first participant, Brian Guzman, to address the Board.

The committee finalized the review of the SEPAC policy and regulation and recommended them for first reading at the May board meeting.

Based on guidance from Christina Topolosky at the Division of Individual & Family Support Services from Union County, the district cancelled the parent resource fair (originally set for Saturday, May 10) due to a scheduling conflict with a large county-wide event scheduled for that day in Plainfield. Instead, for our second parent event for this school year, the Division of Special Services is surveying our SEPAC parents on their recommendation for a workshop topic. The proposed choices are:

- Post-Secondary Program Options for Students with Disabilities
- Challenging Behaviors: Strategies and Support for Families

The results will be available by Friday, May 9, and will plan for the event to be during the last week of May (virtually). Dr. Ojeda presented to the committee the efforts of the Division of Special Services to recognize all Special Education team-members for their contributions to our students, in recognition of New Jersey School Boards Association Special Education Week for 2025. The event will take place this year from Monday to Friday, May 12-16. In addition to recognizing a number of special education programs via our social media platforms, two special events will take place:

- Thank-A-Paraprofessional Day. Currently, over 1,000 paraprofessionals serve our students each day in our classrooms. Students will make thank you cards for their paraprofessionals. To assist, the Division of Special Services sent to each school a care package of markers and construction paper.

- Faculty and Staff Appreciation Day. Our schools are full of teachers and other staff who go out of their way each day for students. As part of this day, the Division of Special Services sent each school three faculty/staff appreciation slips per student, as well as instructions to follow for each class. At the start of the day, each student will receive his/her three slips and be asked to recognize any three team-members in the school throughout the day.
